

As a CB user for 15 years and a potential HAM Radio user I do not wish to see any more interference to deal with than what I already have to from the power substations in my city. BPL over power lines will completely block my signal.